

LETS LEARN ABOUT...
PUMPKINS

NAME: _____

READ

ANSWER

SORT IT OUT

WHAT I LEARNED

Activity

PUMPKINS FLIPBOOK

Ready to Print

Pumpkins are a big part of Halloween celebrations in many countries. In the United States, people carve funny or scary faces into pumpkins to make jack-o'-lanterns. In Ireland, where the tradition started, people used to carve turnips instead of pumpkins. In Mexico, Halloween is part of a bigger holiday called Día de los Muertos, or Day of the Dead. Families there sometimes use pumpkins to decorate their altars. In Japan, Halloween is becoming more popular, and you can see lots of pumpkins in store windows and at parties. People all around the world enjoy pumpkins in different ways to celebrate Halloween!

What You have learned so far?

WHAT I LEARNED

1. What do people in the United States make with pumpkins for Halloween?

2. What vegetable did people in Ireland originally carve instead of pumpkins?

3. What is the name of the holiday in Mexico that includes Halloween?

ANSWER

Cut & Paste Activity

TOPPER

CUT AND PASTE BEHIND LAST PAGE

FACT

OPINION

FACT	OPINION

SORT IT OUT

al diversity

e symbols

Japanese popularity

Mexican altars

g origins

Global traditions

