Ready to Print

Every year on December 13th, people in Sweden celebrate St. Lucia's Day. This special day honors Saint Lucia, a young girl who lived a long time ago. On St. Lucia's Day, a girl is chosen to dress up like Lucia. She wears a long white dress with a red sash around her waist and a wreath with candles on her head. This girl leads a procession, which is like a parade, while singing traditional songs. People also enjoy special foods like saffron buns and ainaer cookies on this day.
